

Antti Litmanen @ EMS 21 February, 2018

 Published: 05 June 2017

Antti Litmanen is a Finnish musician and a Doctoral Candidate in English Philology at the University of Oulu.

Having a background as a guitarist in rock and metal music, for over a decade he has been dedicated to archaic elemental and electronic music as a member of Arktau Eos (<https://www.facebook.com/Arktau-Eos-123979047646990/>), who perform internationally at select venues.

A modular synthesis enthusiast with an interest in the ritual music traditions of the world, he has also explored similar realms through various collaborations and private works.

At EMS he has been busy talking to the Buchla.
