📅 Published: 23 November 2017

Reece Cox is a conceptual artist and electronic musician who's practice unfolds across performance and exhibition.

Cox takes a multidisciplinary approach rooted in time-based media and sculpture to articulate cognition and embodiment of abstraction, drawing inspiration from neuroaesthetics, psychoacoustics, electronic music and abstract painting.

With dexterity as a core principle, Cox's practice merges technique and research in a rigorous approach to developing new and ever-evolving ways of articulating neurology and corporeal experience.
