Khodor Ellaik is a Lebanese musician and composer mostly active under his moniker and duo act Kid Fourteen.

Between 2010 and 2014, Ellaik was the frontman of punk band Beirut Scum Society and the No Wave outfit Friendly Faces. Following these ill-fated experiences, Ellaik adopted a solo aesthetic originally blending punk sensibilities and noise-pop elements.

He has collaborated with several local and international musicians such as Alex Zhang Hungtai (Dirty beaches/ Last Lizard), Jamie Stewart (Xiu Xiu), Ziad Moukarzel (Both Ends Work/ Escalier 301B), Jad Atoui etc.

His debut album Dream Kids Never Sleep was released in 2016 on 'Ruptured' music label. Kid Fourteen's second album Blood-Thick Silence was released on April 13th 2018 by 'Pinyon' (UK) followed by the single Everybody wants a strong man later that year.
