xname (<http://xname.cc>) aka Eleonora Oreggia is a conceptual electronic artist who makes performances and interactive installations with light, noise, dust and electromagnetic fields.

She is also the founder of Nebularosa Records, a label seeking to promote music that challenges the established forms of music production. Originally from Milan, she is currently based in London where she is concluding a PhD in Media & Arts Technology at Queen Mary University of London.

While in Stockholm she will present her research "Audiovisual Composition using Electromagnetic Waves" and REBUS, the novel instrument she has devised during the PhD, as a keynote speaker at "Nordic Sound and Music Computing Conference (<http://smcsweden.se>)", held at KTH.
