

Jesper Pedersen @ EMS 22-31 July, 2022

📅 Published: 30 September 2021

Jesper Pedersen is a composer and sound artist based in Reykjavik, Iceland. He has written music for both acoustic instruments and for the electronic medium and his works have been heard in Europe, North America and Australia.

As an electronic musician he has performed extensively with modular synthesizers both solo as well as collaborating with diverse groups ranging from contemporary, experimental and improvised music. His musical explorations range from abstract, ambient, drone to noise and his works often include immersive sound experiences.

He teaches electronic composition at the Iceland University of the Arts and is part of the Icelandic composer's collective SLÁTUR.

At EMS he will explore the Serge and the Buchla and multichannel spatialization.
