Nina Buchanan @ EMS 24 July - 13 August, 2023

 Published: 09 December 2022

Nina Buchanan is a musician and composer based in Naarm (Melbourne), whose practice encompasses performing and releasing electronic music, sound installation, scores and sound design.

Her work evokes genre affiliations as broad as 90s electronica, IDM, film scores, ambient, and minimalism, but is always expanding into new territories. Oscillating between the ecstatic and the melancholic, she engages with sound and music as an alternate way to understand our social, environmental and technological contexts.

Nina has released two EPs and an album, Restless Abandon (2021), with performances for Melbourne Music Week, The Substation, Asia Topa, Liquid Architecture, and Carriageworks; and composition work featured at festivals nationally and internationally.
