

Ant Dickinson is back at EMS 22 May - 2 June!

Published: 22 January 2016

We are happy to see Ant back at EMS! Ant Dickinson (<http://antdickinson.com/>) is a musician, sound designer and creative technologist. Based in North Wales, he uses unconventional instrumentation combined with digital tools integrating elements of improvisation, indeterminism and mechanics. Alongside linear editing software, he works with Openframeworks, Processing, Pure Data and Arduino.

As well as collaborations with artists Jessica Lloyd-Jones, Ronan Devlin and Sound Book Project, he is currently completing an Arts Council Wales funded project "Crossed Lines" to be shown in Wales and abroad through the second part of 2016.

Photo: part of the project 'Power in The Land' (<http://nuclear.artscatalyst.org/content/power-land>)