Mariam Gviniashvili (<http://mariamgviniashvili.com/#/>) (b. 1989) is an Oslo-based composer and sound artist originally from Georgia. Her compositional focus is on investigating the role of spatiality in music. Her artistic practice also extends to audiovisual works in which she explores the relationships between 3D sound and moving image. She collaborates with performers and creates music for dance and theatre. Her music is regularly performed at international concerts and festivals such as Ars Electronica, Klingt Gut, Audio Mostly, New York Electroacoustic Music Festival, Cube Fest, Ultima Festival, or BEAST FEaST.
