Tilawok (<http://www.tjperrin.com/music/>) and The Space Wanderer (<https://www.postseasonfranchiserecords.com/artists>) are multi instrumentalist sound artists collaborating internationally between Sweden and New York. Their work combines analog, digital and recorded samples into rhythmic energetic soundscapes. They plan to work on developing and experimenting with various methods of electronic music sound creation for one week in December.

The residency hopes to inspire an infusion of modern computer production techniques combined with classic modular synthesis to create a production inspired by ambient, electronica, psychedelic, jazz, and techno.
