 Published: 25 May 2022

EMS welcomes Nils Rougé as an ERASMUS+ intern in June/July.

He is a French sound designer and musician who is currently studying at the Theatre sound department of ENSATT, (<https://www.ensatt.fr/>) L'École Nationale Supérieure des Arts et Techniques du Théâtre (National School of Theatre Arts and Techniques) in Lyon.

Nils Rougé develops his interest in sound in many ways:

he runs an electronic music project, creates soundtracks for theatre, radio and short films, has studied sound in cinema for two years in a preparatory class, and has played as bassist, guitarist or singer in different bands.

His work mainly focuses on creating nocturnal atmospheres and abstract inscapes by extensively processing synthetic matters, field recordings, or sounds found on the internet.
